

'IT WAS REALLY BAD'

PAUL Lambert pulled no punches as he tried to explain Saturday's shocker at Torquay United.

His promotion-chasing Blues crashed to a 3-0 defeat away at the Football League's bottom club and Lambert did not hide from it afterwards.

He said: "It was really bad and fortunately I haven't had to say that too many times this season. We never got going."

The shell-shocked Scot added: "We never deserved anything from the game. We never played well and gave them goals through bad mistakes.

"We weren't at the races and our goalkeeper kept the score down."

Without Ricardo Batista and the woodwork also coming to Wycombe's rescue, Wanderers could have been on the wrong end of a six-goal hiding against a team who had previously scored only 13 times in front of their own fans this season.

Lambert said: "At half time I thought we could still get back in the game but we never got at it and got what we deserved.

"We've lost the game because we never played well enough to win it."

But Lambert refused to rant and rave afterwards.

He said: "We've got to get this one out of our system and see if we can win the next game.

"I can't be really over critical because of the number of games we've played - I'm prepared to put this one down to being just a bad day.

"We're still well in the mix. There is enough bottle, character and ability.

"They have shown everybody we can produce it and we will. We will give it everything we have got."
