

Marshall sacked as Wanderers cull continues

Forced out: Scott Marshall

SCOTT Marshall has been sacked as Wanderers' youth development coach.

The former player follows club legends Keith Ryan and Steve Brown out of the door as the club continues to rip its coaching set-up apart to cut costs.

Goalkeeping coach and former hero John Granville has also gone along with youth team administrator Nicky Chivers.

Marshall, who was first brought to the club as a player by his former Arsenal colleague Tony Adams, becomes victim number five.

Injury restricted him to just nine appearances for the Chairboys but after his playing days finished he returned to Adams Park on the coaching side.

Keirina Rowland is also leaving the club.

The lifelong Wanderers fan is set to become the assistant to the general manager of the Football Conference.

Before she goes she is set to do a moonlight walk on behalf of the club with pal Tahli Jenkinson to raise money for Wanderers' official charity the Iain Rennie Hospice.
