■ Torres inspires Blues to their first win in 175 days

SERGIO Torres ended more than six months of frustration for Wanderers fans with a winning goal on Saturday.

Wycombe's favourite Argentine scored the only goal of Blues' game with Bury at Adams Park to secure their first victory of the season.

It came as a huge relief to Wanderers fans, who had not seen their team triumph since they beat Macclesfield 3-0 on March 3.

Wanderers then went 11 matches without a win to end the season and did not win any of their first three games this season.

Man of the Match Torres said: "The first win is always difficult but it was important to get three points after the start we've had.

"Now we're moving up the table again and we need to keep winning. We're playing well, we just need to score more goals."

Manager Paul Lambert was not getting over-excited though.

He said: "It's only three games gone. It feels like 900 already, it's frightening.

"Last year we didn't have enough numbers and it hurt us, but the depth of our squad definitely helps and we're going to need everybody throughout a long hard season."
