

Injury worries mount for Taylor

WANDERERS are facing a mounting injury crisis ahead of Saturday's League Two opener against Morecambe.

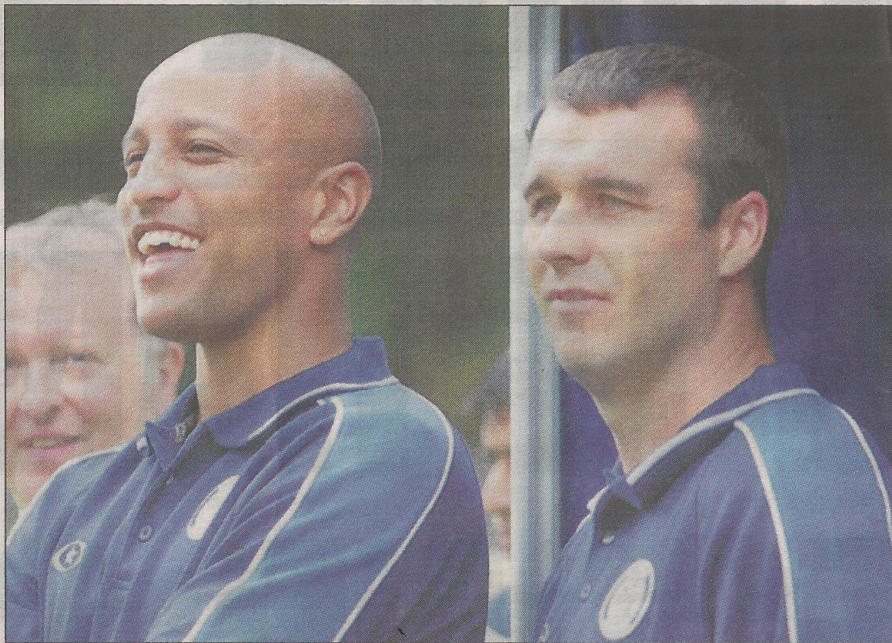

New signing Lewis Hunt is almost certainly ruled out with a groin problem while last season's 26-goal top scorer Scott McGleish is also a major doubt to take his place in the line up for the curtain-raiser.

Boss Peter Taylor said: "You feel like taking a chance because he's so important but if it means he plays and comes off at half time and is out for a month that is going to kill us more than him not playing on Saturday."

Teenage winger Matty Phillips also looks set to miss the big kick off. He failed to declare a thigh problem to the club on Saturday and promptly aggravated it during Saturday's 2-1 defeat at home to Southend United, having to come off at half time.

Lewis Spence might also be a doubt after leaving the pitch before the end of the game with stiffness, while centre half Mike Williamson didn't even manage to make 45 minutes against The Shrimpers.

He has developed a knee problem but manager Peter Taylor is confident that it is nothing too serious and believes he can be fit to face Morecambe.

INJURED: Lewis Hunt and Scott McGleish were spectators again on Saturday