

MAKE LEEDS A TURNING POINT

BLUES boss Gary Waddock lavished praise on his players after Saturday's magnificent 1-1 draw at league leaders Leeds and then told them they have got to make sure it is the turning point of their season.

The Blues dominated the game at Elland Road and even Leeds fans admitted afterwards that it was hard to see why they are six points clear at the top of League One and Wycombe are five points adrift of safety.

After Jonathan Howson had given Leeds a third minute head-start, Wanderers took the game to United and Jon-Paul Pittman's second half equaliser was the very least they deserved for their best performance of the season.

Waddock stunned Leeds with a bold three-striker policy which left Leeds, giantkillers of Manchester United in the FA Cup just six days before, chasing shadows.

Now Waddock says the challenge is for his team to prove that their Elland Road show was no flash in the pan.

WANDERERS

He said: "The players have set the standards. They've shown they can do it and now we've got to keep on doing it.

"It is no good doing it just once or twice, we have got to be consistent and keep coming up with performances like that.

"We must take huge confidence from going to Leeds and performing like we did.

"It wasn't a fluke. We changed the formation, everyone expected us to put five across the middle and be solid but we decided to be bold.

"We had nothing to lose and had a real go and we've got to make sure it's a turning point.

"We've won at Millwall, we've drawn at Leeds and if we can pick up results like that there's no reason why we can't continue to get good results.

"There are enough games left to save ourselves. That wasn't a team that was struggling at the wrong end of the table."

CONTRASTING FORTUNES: John Mousinho and Matt Harrold celebrate Jon-Paul Pittman's second half equaliser while Leeds keeper Casper Ankergren shows his despair