

BETSY: FICKLE FANS ARE NOT HELPING US

"I lost the ball and I could hear the ooohs. It was like I had killed someone."

WANDERERS ace Kevin Betsy says the supporters must shoulder some of the responsibility for Saturday's disappointing 2-2 draw against Lincoln City.

He says the team were at fault for playing like individuals and chucking their game-plan out of the window but added that the fans did not help by getting on their back.

He said: "I lost the ball in the second half and I could hear the ooohs. It was like I had killed someone."

"They are entitled to their opinions and I totally respect that, but when the team are doing their utmost to try and win the game and they can't see that, it is a little bit disappointing."

"Lincoln were coming here to try and win the game and we had to impose ourselves on them. How do we do that? By everyone at the football club being behind everyone on the pitch. It's simple, it's not rocket science."

"Everyone at this club should be together in a forward motion trying to win games and if one or two aren't behind the team it's not good."

Betsy believes the crowd's response was borne out of frustration with supporters perplexed at Blues' inability to transfer their sparking away form onto their home patch.

Betsy said: "The expectation at home is always very high and I think our supporters need to be behind us a bit more if I am honest."

"I have been here many years and I know how fantastic they can be and they are the 12th man when they are in full voice."

"But at the moment I don't think they are being fully behind us at times and they should be because we are playing some fantastic football and hopefully we can make this place into a really hard place for teams to come to."

Wanderers were booed off by a section of their home crowd who have seen just two Adams Park victories all season.

Their team looked on course to make that three when Betsy fired them in front just 47 seconds into the encounter but Wycombe could not build on that explosive opening.

Betsy said: "When you get a start like that you expect to win the game but it didn't work out like that."

And he says the players were at fault.

He said: "We came away from the way the manager wants us to play. We played too individually and got punished."

"If you go onto the football field not as a collective and do things that go against what the manager wants then you are never going to get anything."

"We started going long and the manager hasn't brought those type of players into the club to make that work."

"We can't play like that. Ben Strevens and Stuart Beavon tore them apart first half by balls down the side but we stopped doing that."

"We didn't stick to the philosophy and the principles that the manager has instilled into us and once you go away from that you are going to get a negative result."

Wycombe will be back on happier territory tonight when they make the trip to Kent to take on Gillingham

Betsy said: "Hopefully we can keep the away form going."

"We have got to put Saturday's second half performance to bed and go again."
