

Chiltern Music Academy to join us on Saturday

Local symphonic wind band adds to the entertainment at Adams Park.

Fans attending Saturday's match against Burton Albion at Adams Park will be greeted at the entrance by Chiltern Music Academy's Symphonic Wind Band, who'll be performing Christmas tunes at the entrance to the stadium.

Conducted by Simon Davie, Chiltern Music Academy is an independent centre of vibrant community music making. More than 450 children and young people take part in its weekly activities, including bands, choirs and orchestras. Young musicians aged 4-19 are given every chance to fulfil their potential in an atmosphere of encouragement and fun.

At the other end of the stadium, in the Chairboys Village, Rachael Samuel and the Wycombe Community Gospel Choir will also be performing, while there's the Beyond BBQ vegan grill, a regular BBQ and the Sports & Education Trust shooting practice for youngsters.

The Salvation Army brass band will be joining us from 2pm to perform inside the stadium bowl before kick-off and at half-time, and we're also welcoming the Time To Change movement, who'll be distributing sweet treats and important messages about looking out for loved ones over the Christmas period.

And Father Christmas himself will be meeting fans close to the stadium entrance - on his sleigh - handing out chocolates and collecting donations for local children's charities supported by the Rotary Club.

There's plenty to enjoy - including, of course, Wanderers' pursuit of another home victory as they take on the Brewers - and you can book your tickets now at tickets.wwfc.com.

Please note that, due to Christmas parties taking place in the Caledonian Suite and Woodlands Lounge on Saturday evening, both bars will not be open at full-time (the Caledonian Suite will also not be open at half-time). Fans are invited into the Chairboys Village and Monty's Bar for a post-match drink instead.
