

Aaron Morley says he can't wait to begin the second chapter of his Wycombe Wanderers story after returning to the club on a permanent basis from Bolton Wanderers.

The midfielder was a massive hit in his loan spell at Adams Park last season and joined up with the Chairboys again on Thursday morning after the move was agreed the previous evening.

"I'm absolutely buzzing to be back," he said in his first interview back. "I left here with unfinished business and I'm back to finish it.

"This has always been brewing since I left last year and I'm so happy to get it over the line."

Morley's scintillating form in the light and dark blue quarters prompted Bolton to recall him from his loan last January, and he went on to be named the Whites' Players' Player of the Year despite featuring for only half a season.

"I had a great spell at Wycombe and went back to Bolton and did well but unfortunately got injured," he said. "I played pretty regularly there this season but now I'm ready to kick on with Wycombe and hopefully get loads of games and goals and assists under my belt.

"When I left Wycombe we were in a really good position and unfortunately it (promotion) didn't happen for them last year, but this year hopefully we can do it.

"I just want to help the team as much as I can. There's a healthy squad here and everyone's got to be at it to keep the shirt and help the team climb the table.

"There's not too many familiar faces here – a lot has changed, but I've met the new lads and they all seem great."

Aaron could feature on Saturday when the Blues head to Mansfield, before returning to Adams Park for his potential second home debut against Doncaster on 7th February.

"The fans gave me a great send-off at the end of last season and hopefully they bring the numbers and the noise next week when I'm back at Adams Park, and we'll be giving everything to get the win."
